Love is the one business in which it pays to be an absolute spendthrift: Give it away; throw it away; splash it over; empty your pockets of it; shake the basket; and tomorrow you will have more than ever! Give and it will be given to you. They will pour into your lap a good measure-pressed down, shaken together and running over. For by your standard of measure it will be measured to you in return. Luke 6:38

DO NOT QUIT! Somebody is praying for you and you will get through this.

Love Your Enemies

The teaching of Jesus to love and pray for our enemies is one of the most difficult teachings in the Bible. However, it is not a new teaching.

When Jesus says in Matthew 5:44, But I say to you, love your enemies and pray for those who persecute you..., he is simply explaining God's original intention behind the second greatest commandment, Leviticus 9:18:

...you shall love your neighbor as yourself...

I think that it is very important that loving and praying for our enemies is mentioned together. I think the key to getting my wretched heart into a place that can begin to love my enemies starts with prayer.

Have you ever prayed for someone you didn't like? Have you ever prayed for someone who hurt you greatly or hurt someone that you love? I have. I didn't do it because I wanted to or because I'm overflowing with godly virtue. I did it for one reason only: Jesus told me to do it.

It was difficult. VERY difficult. I'm sure that many of you have great hurts in your past; Most of us do. So what happened when I prayed for my "enemies?" It was an unusual experience. At first, I felt nothing. I prayed, but I didn't love and couldn't make myself care, but I continued.

As time went by, and as I continued to be obedient to the command of Jesus, God began to slowly change my heart.

It wasn't only praying but also gaining knowledge that changed my heart. I learned that I was once God's enemy, and God didn't hate me, but instead sent Jesus to save me (Romans 5:10).

I learned that by not loving my enemies, I was poisoning my own life. The hatred and resentment that I had for them hurt me far more than it did them.

Over time, as God changed my heart, I learned to forgive my enemies, to pray for their well-being and even to love them. You may think I'm lying. You may think it's impossible. I'm not lying, but if you think it's impossible, you're right, but Matthew 5:19 says, with God all things are possible.

I think it's important to say one final thing in this article. Loving and praying for an enemy doesn't mean that I have to associate with that person. It doesn't mean that I have to trust that person. It doesn't mean that I have to like that person. What it does mean is that I should desire that they have the same faith in Jesus that I have. It means that I should desire for God to change their heart, just as He has changed mine. It means that I should pray as Jesus and Stephen prayed for the very men that were murdering them, "Forgive them, for they do not know what they are doing."

At one time I did not know what I was doing. I did not realize that I was guilty of the death of Jesus. As I desire love and forgiveness from God for the atrocities that I am guilty of, God calls me to the perfect standard of desiring that my enemies discover that same love and forgiveness. They don't deserve it, but neither do I.

I love you all and I'm praying for you continually.

Love Your Enemies

Matthew 5:43-48
<sup>43</sup> "You have heard that it was said, 'YOU SHALL LOVE YOUR NEIGHBOR and hate your enemy.' <sup>44</sup> But I say to you, love your enemies and pray for those who persecute you, <sup>45</sup> so that you may be sons of your Father who is in heaven; for He causes His sun to rise on the evil and the good, and sends rain on the righteous and the unrighteous. <sup>46</sup> For if you love those who love you, what reward do you have? Do not even the tax collectors do the same? <sup>47</sup> If you greet only your brothers, what more are you doing than others? Do not even the Gentiles do the same? <sup>48</sup> Therefore you are to be perfect, as your heavenly Father is perfect.
