FROM THE PREACHERS DESK
Heavenly Processes

There is much mystery in the workings of God, as I often say in one way or another, but there are many, what I might call, “heavenly processes,” that the Bible helps us understand.

For instance, one of these processes is the process in which God works to affect changes in our behavior.

It’s familiar to all who follow Jesus, and goes something like this:

1. Something happens that causes me to feel convicted

By “something happening,” I mean that I read something in the Bible, or I hear something biblical that is taught, or I hear a song lyric, or some life event happens, whether large or small, that brings to my mind the Lord and His teaching.

By “that causes,” I mean there is a disturbance of some sort in my innermost being, or I might also say in my heart or in my soul.

By “convicted,” I mean that, in some way, I understand the pronouncement from God’s throne that I stand guilty before Him of something.

2. I decide to repent...or I don’t

By “decide to repent,” I mean that put together some form of game-plan to turn away from whatever it was that caused me to feel convicted toward doing whatever it is that God would have me to do.

By “don’t,” I mean that I don’t repent. I may feel bad, and mistakenly count my feeling bad as making a righteous action. I may make excuses of why I can’t repent and mistakenly feel justified because I have, what I’ve convinced myself, a good enough reason to not actually repent. I may even cry and confess my conviction and mistakenly feel like I’ve done my due diligence.

Let’s assume, for the sake of this article, that we decide to repent after we feel convicted. That will lead us to the third and final step of the process.

3. I repent.

By “repent,” I mean that I do whatever is necessary to abandon my former way of thinking and action and instead think how God would have me think and do as God would have me do. (continued)

ORPHAN’S LIFELINE
The special contribution collected for Orphans Lifeline was an amazing $4,221. If anyone still wants to give, please give your money to one of the elders.

This process is constant in the life of followers of Jesus. It is initiated and made possible to execute by the Lord, Himself and empowered by the Holy Spirit. How are you currently “in process?” We are constantly either doing what God would have us to do, or resisting.

Let us all give in to His leading together. For our good and His glory!

Greek of the Week:

In our text this week is the word, “stubbornness.” It comes from the Greek noun sklērotēs, which, most literally means “hardness.”

You may recognize our English word “sclerosis,” as in the autoimmune disease, multiple sclerosis, which is a disease that, among other things, hardens tissues in the brain, spinal cord and optic nerves.

Sclerosis is a serious and deadly disease of the physical body, but even more severe is the spiritual disease, sclerosis of the heart, which prevents repentance and obedience to God.

If you are visiting today, welcome!
We are glad that you have joined us in worshipping our God.
